A Pinata of Hated 3 Northside Piers

 Tuesday, May 7, 2013, by Hana R. Alberts

WILLIAMSBURG—Two separate tipsters have sent in photos of a pinata at a 2 Northside Piers Cinco de Mayo party, which was specially ordered to look like the under-construction third tower of the same development. Many consider the new Northside Piers building (abbreviated here as NSP3) to be an eyesore that will block their river views, so residents must have had fun bashing the living daylights out of it with a pool cue and then gobbling up its candy-filled insides. Though it seems, based on the photos above, that the building held up surprisingly well. CurbedWire Inbox, [previously]
